Congress Overrides President

Ike's Veto Record Falls; Works Projects Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress turned its attention today to relatively minor matters after its first veto-victory over President Eisenhower in his 6½ years in office. It goes back into high gear Saturday in a final sprint for hoped-for adjournment next Monday just before the Washington arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Two major matters and many lesser ones were disposed of Thursday.

Both houses overrode Eisenhower's objections and passed finally a $1,185,309,093 money bill to finance flood control, harbor and other public works projects. In doing so, Congress upset the first Eisenhower veto of the 146 he has issued since 1953.

The House completed congressional action on a third-try billion dollar housing bill which the White House has indicated Eisenhower will sign. He had vetoed two earlier measures.

The Senate passed a bill which would make it easier for this country to extend aid to Poland and other Iron Curtain countries seeking a measure of independence from Moscow. But Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), whose opposition helped defeat a similar bill by a single vote last year, called for reconsideration before sending it to the House.

The House may act today on a compromise version of a farm surplus disposal bill. Worked out Thursday night by a conference committee, the measure would extend for two years the present program of selling surplus crops overseas in return for foreign currencies.

The conferees agreed on a two-year extension, with authority to sell 1½ billion dollars worth of products a year and to give away up to 300 millions more a year for emergency relief. The bill also would permit, but not compel, the Agriculture Department to set up a food stamp plan to supply commodities to needy persons in this country.

Another conference group, though apparently deadlocked, tries again today to reach agreement on a bill to permit raising the interest rates on series E and H savings bonds.

The development watched with most interest Thursday was Congress' quick action in passing the public works bill over Eisenhower's veto.

It took the House just 30 minutes and the Senate less than 40 minutes to shatter the President's record of making all of his vetoes stick.

The House vote was 280-121, a margin of 12 votes more than the two-thirds required. Twenty Republicans joined 260 Democrats to upset the President, while 5 Democrats teamed up with 116 Republicans to support him. Just a week ago the House fell one vote short of overriding an almost identical measure.

The Senate bowed over the President by a vote of 72-23, an edge of 8 votes over the needed two thirds. Twelve Republicans and 60 Democrats were on the winning side, with 21 Republicans and 2 Democrats on the short end.

Eisenhower vetoed the bill, as he did the earlier one, because it included financing for 67 projects not provided for in his budget.

Thursday's action left one major hurdle between Congress and adjournment. The Senate Saturday takes up a House-passed foreign aid appropriation bill providing about $3,290,000,000 in new aid funds and about 400 million more for miscellaneous other purposes.

Scheduled to be added to it on the Senate floor is an amendment to extend for two years the life of the Civil Rights Commission, which otherwise would expire next November. Southern senators plan a token filibuster against the amendment and might delay a final vote until Monday.

The skids are greased in the House to accept the civil rights amendment and compromise the money matters.

That would pave the way for final adjournment of the session sometime Monday.

Ike Keeps Door Open For Summit

Tells Khrushchev Come To U.S. With Constructive Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP)—President

Eisenhower held open today the possibility that his man-to-man talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, beginning Tuesday, may lead to a summit conference.

That could mean negotiations on disarmament, the future of Germany and other world issues.

In a radio-TV report to the nation Thursday night Eisenhower called on Khrushchev to come to Washington with "constructive ideas and suggestions that could provide the basis for responsible negotiation on the issues that divide us." And he expressed carefully guarded optimism about the possibility of moving toward better understanding between the Soviet Union and the West.

"It is my profound hope," he declared, "that some real progress will be forthcoming, even though no one would be so bold as to predict such an outcome."

Throughout his speech Eisenhower emphasized that he does not intend to abandon any principle of basic American policy in his search for new approaches to solution of East-West problems.

Any agreement for a later summit meeting, he said, "must be based upon the certainty" of Soviet respect for the position of the Western powers in Berlin. In addition, he said, "there must be some clear Soviet indication, no matter how given, that serious negotiation will bring about real promise of reducing the causes of world tensions."

"Firmness in support of fundamentals," Eisenhower said, "with flexibility in tactics and methods, is the key to any hope of progress in negotiation."

The President's report covered both his recent European trip and his forthcoming talks with Khrushchev, who will arrive here next Tuesday on a 12-day visit to the United States. At the outset of the visit, Khrushchev will spend two days in Washington. He will wind up his coast-to-coast tour with three more days of discussions here.

In Europe Eisenhower conferred with the leaders of Britain, France, West Germany, Italy and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and said he outlined to them his reasons for inviting Khrushchev here as follows:

"First, to give him the opportunity to see what America and Americans are like. To let him see and feel a great and thriving nation living in real freedom. "Second, to give him, face to face, the basic conviction of our people on the major issues of the day, including West Berlin, and to hear from him directly his own views on those issues."

Cool Spell, Oh, Boy, And It's Gonna Last

Cool—it's wonderful! And the Ohio weatherman said the cool front that knocked the heat wave to smithereens will linger on for four or five days.

The mass of cool air out of Canada arrived over East Liverpool Thursday about noon and dropped the temperature nearly 15 degrees in about an hour. A heavy shower then lighter rains helped wash out the heat for good. Dam 8 said the precipitation — the first substantial rain in more than a week — totaled 0.34 inch.

The mercury had climbed to 83 at 11 a. m. yesterday then the cool front arrived, tumbling the temperatures to 69 by 1 p. m. It fell gradually during the afternoon and night and halted at 55 degrees as the overnight low.

The day's high will be 70 to 75 degrees and tonight's low will be a chilly 45 to 50. Saturday will be sunny and a little warmer but temperatures will remain 3 to 5 degrees below normal through Wednesday.

Rural School Closes

After Failure Of Well

A deep-well pump at the Highlandtown School was being removed today to determine what caused a water failure Thursday morning, forcing dismissal of classes yesterday and today for 160 pupils.

Joe Hill of Lisbon was removing the 300-foot deep submersible pump this morning to begin repairs which he believes can be completed in time for school to resume Monday.

Lack of water was noticed about 10 a. m. yesterday, and officials of the Southern Local District school decided to suspend classes.

Communists Talk Peace On 2 Fronts

Asian Reds Show No Readiness To Make Concessions

TOKYO (AP)—Asian Communists are talking peace through "friendly negotiations" on two fronts—the India-China border and in Laos. But the Reds are giving no indication of a readiness to make concessions.

Red China's parliamentary standing committee was called suddenly into session today to discuss the growing dispute with India along the Tibetan border. This came after the Laotian rebels announced Wednesday they were ready to negotiate "if the royal Laotian government still desires a peaceful settlement."

A U.N. fact-finding mission is leaving New York for Laos Saturday night in answer to an appeal for help from the royal government. The rebels accused the U.N. of interfering in the internal affairs of Laos.

There was speculation here the Communist peace gestures might be at the urging of Moscow to create a more relaxed international atmosphere for Premier Nikita Khrushchev's trip to the United States next Tuesday for talks with President Eisenhower.

The Soviet Union has shown concern over the growing bitterness between Red China and India with an open plea to both to settle their border differences.

Peiping radio said Chinese Communist newspapers today gave prominence to the statement from the Soviet news agency Tass "denouncing the exploitation of the Sino-Indian border issue by the West and to sow discord between the two greatest Asian countries, China and India."

Indian Prime Minister Nehru told a news conference in New Delhi today he doesn't think there is any likelihood of the border troubles leading to a war.

"I don't believe there has been any development which could lead to a conflict—even a small one," he said.

But Nehru told the Indian Parliament Thursday that "the matter is serious because I do not know how the Chinese mind is working."

Willshaw, Passenger Shaken In Auto Crash

A city councilman and a passenger in his car were bruised slightly when another car skidded into their auto on a slippery section of Route 39 in the West End of Salineville Thursday afternoon at 4:05.

George E. Willshaw, 49, of 1713 Idaho Ave., councilman-at-large, was driving west on Route 39 in a 1959 sedan owned by the Standard Oil Co., for which he is a district representative.

An east-bound car operated by William Thomas Williams, 22, of Wells Hollow Rd., Wellsville, rounded a bend and apparently skidded into the side of Willshaw's car.

Willshaw and W. K. Murtenson of Youngstown, an official of the oil firm, were shaken up in the crash, which damaged the front and side of the company auto and caused heavy damage to Williams' 1952 sedan. Salineville police investigated.

Willshaw and Murtenson were taken to the hospital, but were not seriously injured. The car was towed away.

HAS BIG HEADACHE. Nursing an aching head, Deputy W. B. King Jr. is shown in Weirton General Hospital after he was slugged by two prisoners who fled the Hancock County Jail early today. Deputy King received head wounds that required 27 stitches when beaten with a 12-inch piece of cell bar the pair pried loose in their successful bid for freedom.

3 More Cited For Bombings In Little Rock

Total Of 5 Now Charged With Blasts Tied To Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Little Rock police and FBI agents have charged three more men in Little Rock's Labor Day bombings. Municipal Court hearing for the men was set for today.

Five men have now been charged in connection with the late-evening blasts which shattered part of the Little Rock school board office, the business office of Mayor Werner Knoop and a station wagon owned by Fire Chief Gann Nalley.

No one was hurt in the bombings.

John Taylor Coggins, 39, car salesman, Samuel Graydon Beavers, 49, a carpenter at the state hospital here, and Jesse Raymond Perry, 24, truck driver, were charged Thursday night. Coggins and Beavers were arrested Thursday, Perry on Wednesday.

Police Chief Eugene Smith and FBI Special Agent J. J. Casper announced the charges jointly and would not elaborate. Coggins, Beavers and Perry were held in jail in lieu of $50,000 bond.

Program Begins Monday

Children Of City's Schools To Receive Free Polio Shot

The first of three free shots to immunize city school children against polio will be given Monday and Tuesday in 14 East Liverpool schools.

Aimed principally at first and second grade pupils in 11 public elementary buildings and St. Alloysius Parochial School, the program also will include any other student not previously immunized against the potential killer, Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, city health commissioner, said.

The program will start at 9 a. m. Monday at Klondyke School and the immunization team headed by Dr. Kuhlman will visit in order Neville, East Junior High, Horace

Hearings Due 7 Beaver Men On Kickbacks

Grand Jury May Get Charges Drafted In Highway Probe

Seven men were scheduled for hearings today at 2 p. m. before Justice of the Peace Frank Storor of Baden on charges involving them in the present investigation of "kickbacks" in the Beaver County division of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department.

Five were previously arrested and two others turned themselves in. Samuel G. Neff, former state senator and county Democratic chairman, is accused of extortion and conspiracy to extort.

Others are Robert Yoho of Homewood, James Marcy of New Brighton, Leon Kaleta of White Township and George Mazzant of Ellwood City. Edward Nitsche of Rochester, a caretaker, and Paul Fessler, a former assistant superintendent, surrendered.

According to counsel for the men, the hearings were not waived. District Attorney Richard P. Steward plans to take the case to the September Grand Jury, which convenes Monday and has at least 69 cases to consider.

Judges Robert McCreary and Morgan Sohn will hear a petition

Jailer Asks Help In Alert Over Radio

Burglary Defendant, AWOL Seaman Still Sought After Break

Authorities in the West Virginia Panhandle launched an intensive search today for two prisoners who escaped from the Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland early this morning after slugging a sheriff's deputy.

Walter Cox Steiner, 19, and Robert Thomas Williams, 29, both of Weirton, overpowered Deputy William B. King Jr. during their escape and inflicted a severe head wound.

Deputies and West Virginia State Police from Weirton were making an intensive search of a heavily-wooded area surrounding the jail about noon today but it is believed the pair possibly escaped in a waiting car.

Deputies termed the escape "well planned" as the prisoners had waited until Deputy King was alone before prying their way through a jail cell and slipping unnoticed into an outer room.

A cry of "Help, help—Hancock County!" that crackled over the airwaves at 4:20 signaled Weirton City Police that something was wrong at the Hancock County seat.

Shortly after, Deputy King again radioed frantically, "Help, send a doctor, I'm bleeding badly."

Two cruisers rushed to the scene from Weirton but the two escapees were gone from the area.

The injured deputy remains in "guarded" condition at the Weirton General Hospital with two wounds of the head. Hospital authorities said 27 sutures were required to close the wounds.

Steiner was being held for Naval authorities on charges of being AWOL from a base in Florida.

Steiner had been apprehended as an AWOL by deputies only two weeks ago and put on a plane bound for Florida. However, he fled from the craft when it landed.

Train's Swift Stop Injures 2

Freight Halts After Derail At Irondale

Two Cleveland railroad employees were injured when a Pennsylvania Railroad Co. freight train of 153 empty cars slammed to a halt near Irondale Thursday afternoon after a couple of the cars derailed.

Traffic on the line was rerouted via Conway to Canton for about six hours while the damaged trucks were repaired, a railroad spokesman said.

William Boring, 43, of Cleveland, conductor on the Mingo Junction-to-Cleveland freight, and J. L. Goe, 44, flagman, were treated at City Hospital then transferred to a Cleveland hospital. Boring suffered a possible fracture of the left leg and Goe received an ankle injury when the train came to a sudden halt between Irondale and Salisbury about 4:40 p. m.

A wreck train, which had repaired some damage to tracks near Salineville after a car of a freight derailed there yesterday morning, was sent to the Irondale scene.

One train which had traveled from Conway as far as East Liverpool, had to return to Conway for re-routing on the main line.

Crisis Looms From Effects Of Steel Strike

Period Seen In 2 To 4 Weeks Unless Walkout's Settled

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Effects of the nationwide steel strike—slowly building up over the last 59 days—appear headed for a crisis within the next two to four weeks. Hefty inventories accumulated during a record six months' production prior to the strike are becoming unbalanced. Many small firms unnoticed because of size have quietly halted production.

An Associated Press survey shows layoffs in industries allied to steel have reached 175,000. Late reports may push the unemployment figures even higher.

Even as the picture grows dark many of the big manufacturers who depend on steel for raw material report they have not yet felt the sting of the strike. They add quickly that time is running out.

While the economic squeeze grows tighter, negotiators for the basic steel industry and nearly a half-million striking United Steelworkers show no sign of coming close to an agreement.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said earlier this week he would recommend that the President halt the strike by Taft-Hartley injunction if steel shortages develop and further unemployment results.

Just how much the 80-day cooling off period provided for under Taft-Hartley would help is questionable. It would take weeks to

Ike May Talk To Governors About Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower has indicated he may discuss ways to end the steel strike with governors whose states are hardest hit by the long walkout.

The President sent a telegram Thursday to Pennsylvania Gov. David Lawrence suggesting he might meet with the executive committee of the governors conference.

Lawrence and the governors of eight other states had requested such a session last week. The President told Lawrence:

"It would appear to me that any meeting which I might have with governors would be more productive if it was with your duly constituted executive committee."

Lawrence said Pennsylvania's labor secretary, William L. Batt Jr. would meet Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware, conference chairman to discuss arrangements for the executive committee to meet with the President.

The President's impatience with the pace of bargaining in the dispute got some action Thursday morning when he scheduled his first Saturday meeting since the strike began.

Day Set Aside For Honoring VFW Champs

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence today issued a proclamation setting aside Saturday as a day for East Liverpool to honor the national championship drill team of Pvt. Eddy Post 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The proclamation was issued in connection with a business district parade tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. in which the community will pay tribute to the group for its second consecutive U.S. title, captured Sept. 1 at the national VFW convention in Los Angeles.

Approximately 18 units are expected in the parade, according to James Plasco, president of the sponsoring East Liverpool Sportsmen's Club. Forming on Minerwa St., it will move on Walnut St. to E. 5th St., then west on 5th St. to Jackson St., north on Jackson to W. 6th and then east on 6th St. to Broadway, where it will disband.

Drill squad members will ride in open convertibles.

The parade is scheduled to include the East Liverpool, Wellsville and Beaver Local high school bands, plus fire equipment from East Liverpool, Midland, Glenmoor, Calcutta, Chester and Newell. Other units will include the 40 & 8 Society's motorized box car; the Wellsville VFW drill team, the Grant District Burial Squad of Hancock County, the Cassidyettes—acrobats and baton-twirlers from the Cassidy Dancing School—and several antique cars.

In his proclamation, the mayor noted that the drill team has won the national championship twice and the state title five times. Declaring that East Liverpool residents "should be proud of this fine organization," he called on the entire community to set aside Saturday to join in a tribute.

$2,000 Goal Set

BPW Launches Campaign For Funds For Child Clinic

A goal of $2,000, has been set for the annual fund campaign for the Child Health Clinic sponsored by the Business & Professional Women's Club.

Appeals have been mailed to 350 persons, requesting contributions. As there will be no Tag Day this year, a difference of $500 must be made up, the club said. Since the steel strike, 30 more children have been added, and the clinic expects a greater increase, sponsors said.

The Child Clinic committee issued its annual report in connection with the campaign, showing the diversity of service provided children of needy families and economies of operation despite the increasing demands.

The report covers the period April 1, 1958, March 31, 1959. Disbursements included fees of physicians and dentists, $565; hospital, $322.60; prescriptions, $828.15; eye glasses, $22; milk, $84.61, and miscellaneous, $39.03, for a total of $1,861.39. Ninety-two children received care.

Operations included two tonsillectomies, one mastoid, one eye correction, one foot correction, dental care for three, immunization shots for 75, vaccinations to 11, polio shots for 67 and laboratory tests for 12.

Assisting Mrs. Mae Hartt, chairman, with the mailing of the statements were Mrs. Gertrude Lowe, Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, Mrs. Anna Mae Weeda, Mrs. Geraldine Bricker, Mrs. Jane Crawford, Miss Roberta Smith, Mrs. Alice Baer, Miss Gladys Rinehart, Mrs. Martha Plotts, Mrs. Jane Jolly, Mrs. Marie Stier and Mrs. Ethel Harvey.

ed in Parkersburg and later he was arrested again by deputies. Williams was awaiting action by the September Grand Jury on four charges of breaking and entering Weirton area business establishments.

Deputies consider the pair dangerous as they slugged King during their getaway. It is not believed the prisoners were armed.

Deputy King, working alone at the jailer's desk on the night shift, was surprised by the prisoners when one pushed a buzzer used for persons or deputies on duty wishing to use an upstairs door.

Upon answering the buzzer, one of the prisoners who had slipped unnoticed into a photo-developing room apparently slugged the deputy with a section of 12-inch-long steel bar that had been sawed and pried from their cell.

Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs alerted Ohio and Pennsylvania police on the jail break but the search still is being concentrated in Hancock County.

One prisoner was dressed in street clothes. The second wore dungarees without a shirt, deputies said.

Authorities added that Williams served time in the West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville and was on probation for a breaking and entering charge by Brooke County authorities.

The two prisoners were in the same cell. Deputies began questioning other prisoners this morning, seeking clues as to where the two may be hiding.

Laos Fighting Stops; Fact-Finders Awaited

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laotian fighting was reported at a complete standstill today and impending arrival of United Nations observers was advanced as a possible cause.

Earlier this week Laotian military sources said alleged invaders from Communist North Viet Nam began withdrawing as soon as the U.N. began studying Laotian accusations of Communist aggression.

Assault Case Filed As Man Slugs 'Friend'

Elmer Martin, 36, of Negley was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court on an assault and battery charge filed by a Lisbon area man who said the defendant befriended him in an East Liverpool tavern Thursday night, but later slugged and robbed him.

William Hook, 49, of Lisbon R. D. 5 told police Martin offered him a ride home after the pair had been drinking together in a 2nd St. tavern. He said Martin also took his wallet containing $11, but no larceny charge was filed. Martin pleaded guilty to the assault charge. He also admitted an intoxication charge, on which he was fined $10 and costs. Police said Martin admitted striking Hook, but denied taking his wallet.

Hook told police he did not know the name of the tavern in which he met Martin. After the alleged slugging, he went to City Hospital for treatment of a contusion over the right eye.

Hook furnished police with a description of the man who struck him, along with the license number and color of the car. Acting on the description, police took Martin into custody on E. 3rd St. about 2:10 this morning. Hook made his report to police at 1:05. The investigation was made by Lt. Clyde Boso and Patrolman Paul Carter.

Modern Medicine Lowers the Cost of Healthful Living

People are living longer, healthier, happier lives—due in no small measure to the marvels of modern medicine . . . the wonder drugs that quickly cure infections which, less than a decade ago, often proved fatal. Measured in terms of faster relief from pain . . . surer and quicker recovery from illness . . . and a speedier return to work—the benefits of prescribed medicine are indeed priceless—the cost is indeed low. And when you have your prescription filled here, our prices lower the cost of living.

Has Your Child Had His Polio Shot?

Another step will be taken Monday and Tuesday in the city's program to immunize youngsters against the crippling effects of polio.

On those days the first of three anti-polio shots will be made available to all first- and second-grade pupils in the East Liverpool schools and to all other students not previously immunized.

An immunization team headed by Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, city health commissioner, will visit the schools to administer the vaccine, provided through a $1,500 appropriation by Council.

The opportunity is there. It's up to clear-thinking parents to take advantage of it.

If your child hasn't had immunization as an infant, he can and should start now. Your family doctor, children's clinic or health department will try to render the help needed. Youngsters need regular protection against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and polio. Just a few years back these diseases were claiming thousands of Ohioans.

The health picture of today is bright for our youngsters, but we must remain alert to keep it that way. Leroy E. Burney, surgeon general of the United States, sums it up this way: "In the face of this summer's experience in which the large percentage of cases have occurred among the unvaccinated, it would be tragic if we did not exert every effort before next summer to provide the protection the vaccine affords."

The weapons, such as vaccines, against disease now available are a major triumph for preventive medicine. In time they will become even more perfect and thus less likely of failure.

Dr. Kuhlman offers this advice to parents: "Immunize your children against polio now. It's so easy to do and it means so much to your child's health. Protect your loved ones."

"If immunization were abandoned," he continues, "these diseases would return again, taking hundreds and thousands of children's lives."

That's the story briefly. Those parents who already have seen to it that their youngsters have been immunized are to be commended. Those who haven't acted yet should do so Monday and Tuesday.

To Them It's Only Money

Congress finally has broken President Eisenhower's record of never having had a bill passed over his veto.

The smell of pork in that $1,185,309,093 public works money bill was too much to resist. Congressmen who had a whiff of something cooking in their districts and states couldn't withstand it.

To them it's only money.

They do not have to earn it in the sense that ordinary taxpayers earn their money. Congressmen have all kinds of little allowances for this, that and the other, including part of their income that cannot be taxed at all, to insulate them against the shock of high taxes.

For instance, when they want a new office building, which is something the Senate has given itself recently, they think nothing of spending a small fortune per senator to get it. Representatives soon will be doing the same thing. It's only money. No one else has the same privilege.

They go where they please, spend what they please and report what they spent if they please. It's a state of mind that the people's legislators get into—a condition of euphoria that can be compared with what happened to the mythological lotus-eaters.

With the lotus-eaters, it was the fragrance and the taste of a delightful fruit. With congressmen it is the smell of pork that throws them into a trance. The only surprising thing about their condition in 1959 is that they fought it so long before they finally jumped into the pork barrel feet-first and began to gorge.

Republicans, who like pork as well as anybody else, tried to keep it from happening, but there weren't enough of them. Their aim was to keep the spenders from running hog-wild and piling up further deficits, but the spenders always have a mind of their own—a single-mindedness that holds money to be made for spending, not for earning.

If any doubt remained about the big domestic issue next year when presidential politics gets hot, it is gone. It will be savers vs. spenders. It will be Republican budget-balancers against Democratic budget-unbalancers. It will be financial responsibility vs. financial irresponsibility, an issue in which all money earners and taxpayers are beginning to have a lively interest.

Their stake is the future value of their savings, if spenders cannot be weaned off public pork in massive dosages.

When Hatred Burns Itself Out

A description of current conditions in Clinton, Tenn., by David Halberstam appears in the Sept. 17 edition of The Reporter. Clinton was one of the Tennessee communities terrorized by segregationist John Kasper in September 1956.

Kasper today is in jail, a discredited rabble-rouser whose rabble, in the words of one Clinton resident who was school board counsel in 1956, "has gone back under the rocks, or wherever they came from." Halberstam suggests this is the lesson Clinton can teach the country.

"The long and short of it seems to be," he says, "that Kasper has run into some good old-fashion American apathy. . . . In Clinton, hatred has not proved to be a very durable political force. . . . Three years ago when desegregated classes began in Clinton High, it was impossible to be indifferent to the problem. On one hand were the Kasperites, mostly from rural areas and mostly unemployed; on the other hand were the local leaders who, because of their positions rather than their ideologies, had to defend the integrated school. . . . If the news from Clinton was significant three years ago, then the lack of news is no less significant now, and the significance became even more pointed when Little Rock reopened its desegregated public schools last month.

"In Little Rock, as in Clinton, the final conflict was between two white groups, both really segregationist at heart. In both cases the final impetus for token integration came not from a liberal group, not even from an especially socially-conscious group, but from the successful white businessmen who form the backbone of American conservatism. It's the poor folks against the rich folks, and the rich folks have 'laid down the law,' a Negro doctor told a reporter."

Even hatred can burn itself out. In 1958, Clinton knew terror again when bombs were set off in the school. Little Rock has known terror from bombers this year. But ultimately the rabble-rousers and the rabble they roused disappear and events march on.

A big Madison Ave. firm is reported retained by the Democrats to handle the 1960 White House campaign. Selling a candidate to a party is now regarded as calling for the same routines as selling a cigarette, beer, gasoline or other products.

Our Suggestion No. 1 for Mr. Butler's appeal to people is, "Are you voting more and enjoying it less?"

Other suggestions:

More Than Just A Routine Check

One Of Hoffa's Aides Gets Angry

By Victor Riesel

James (not so much a riddle) Hoffa and his colleagues still believe that the best defensive is to be offensive. The Teamsters public relations men have now invoked the name of His Holiness, Pope John XXIII, in their propaganda.

This was done recently in a futile attempt to silence a crusading Catholic writer, Father Ralph Gorman, editor of "The Sign." This is published by the Passionist Fathers. They are dedicated to decency and charity. They have fought the Teamsters.

One of their articles irritated James R. Hoffa. One of Hoffa's lieutenants reacted, naturally. This fellow is Frank E. Fitzsimmons, vice president of Hoffa's home Local 299, Detroit.

The Brother Fitzsimmons decided that any such attack on the Teamsters general president should be probed. This he demanded of Pope John.

HE WROTE His Holiness a letter asking for an investigation "for the benefit of all Catholic people in America who have access to this magazine. . . . because I do not think that it is the policy of the Catholic Church to allow Catholics to take it upon themselves to violate the doctrine of the Catholic Church and its teachings."

At this point I want to take it upon myself to express resentment over Fitzsimmons' failure to include my good and tolerant friend, Father Benjamin Masse, fighting labor expert and crusader of "America," the Jesuits' magazine. Without consulting Father Masse, I'm certain he's chagrined at being included out.

To Father Gorman, Hoffa's union brother wrote:
"Please be assured I find no fault with the Catholic Church. . . ."

What Jim Hoffa's vice president questioned, he said, was Father Gorman's right to "take it upon himself" to attack the Teamsters and James R. Hoffa.

"I want it clearly understood that I think your comments and your articles in the past . . . pertaining to (the Teamsters) are to complete distortion of the truth."

"Further, I think you, as a leader in Catholicism, should do as we have been taught since we were old enough to understand the Catholic Church and its teachings, that we do not condemn our brothers without a just trial. . . ."

Then came an attack on Sen. McClellan and Robert Kennedy. And, of course, the demand that Father Gorman be probed.

IN HIS LETTER, Fitzsimmons suggested that Father Gorman check some sources. There is one source. Brother Frank Fitzsimmons himself.

Fitzsimmons testified after Jim Hoffa had explained how he could spend large amounts of cash.
Hoffa swore he had borrowed tens of thousands of dollars from union officials to cover special expenses. This is what Fitzsimmons said after admitting that he had lent Hoffa $2,000, and Kennedy retorted by querying whether Fitz had gone to the bank to get the two grand:

"No. . . . I went home. That evening I went home and the result of it was the next day I had the money and I brought it down to the office and I gave it to him."

Kennedy then asked: "You happen to have kept this cash at home?"

A: "I keep cash at home."
Q: "In a little box?"
A: "No sir."
Q: "Just around the house?"
A: "Yes."

Fitz is a good hearted chap. He lent Jimmy the money in 1953. As an officially low income vice president and business agent, he could spare the two thousand for four years. Jimmy didn't return the loan until September 1957.

Now if Father Gorman were to write the authorities and ask for a probe of that, wouldn't Brother Fitz be indignant?

And Hoffa, too.

Dear Nephew: Thanks for letting us know you are going to be out of business for a few weeks. It will save me the time I usually spend on keeping you posted. I can put it to better use by building a bird house for next summer, or making raffia heat pads for Christmas presents for elderly female relatives.

It also will give me a chance to study something I ran across the other day about types of human beings. A head-shrinker-type doctor says there are four kinds—hostile, adjusted, passive and withdrawn.

The hostile ones always have their chins jutting out and their arms waving. They are ready to poke somebody in the eye all the time. They are the spark-plugs. Heart attacks are their nemesis.

Adjusted people sometimes feel hostile, too. But whether they feel that way or some other way they are everlastingly fighting for balance. They try to solve problems, instead of steamrolling them. They use their reason instead of their adrenal glands. They do not shout; they discuss.

Passive people, on the other hand, do not even discuss. They accept. They flee from reality into a dream world that doesn't exist. They hide their heads under the covers. They suffer from hypochondria and all kinds of symptoms that make them mildly unhealthy.

Withdrawn people are the sad sacks. They cannot believe in themselves because there is nothing inside themselves to believe in. They imagine they are getting a real deal all the time. They conjure up stuff. They develop persecution complexes and brood about getting revenge against their enemies. These people are real sick.

I found this grouping to be more than ordinarily interesting because it helped me to understand something. I am the adjusted type. But it never had been clear to me how I could be adjusted when I spend so much time trying to adjust myself. I sometimes feel one way, sometimes another way. I am full of hope, then full of despair. I am mad, merry, maudlin, mad-died and magnificent—sometimes all in the same day.

But the trick is that I keep changing, and that is adjustment. This is reassuring. I had begun to think there must be something wrong with me because I could not stay sore at anything long enough to work myself into lather. I couldn't even stay afraid of anything. There were days when the world was wonderful and days when it was a sack of rotten apples.

It just didn't seem to be sensible for me to be so inconsistent. Some of my friends had been twitting me about it. They had been hinting that I should count my buttons and tug on them to make sure they weren't loose. I had begun to doubt my sanity.

But this head-shrinker-type doctor has put me back in Sanesville, if I may be pardoned for talking like a Nitnik. It's not me who's raveling out. It's all those other people—the ones who stay mad all the time, the ones everlastingly bristling with energy, the limp ones who never get excited about anything and the beatniks who have withdrawn from the real world into a never-never land of things that exist only in their muddy minds.

Me, I'm as sensible as a horse, which is something I've wanted to take up with you. Where does the idea come from that we would be better off if we had "horse sense." All the horses I've known have been mental blanks. All the horse buffs I've ever asked about it have said horses have good reflexes and a few sharp instincts but otherwise are among the dumbest of animals. Your aunt says "crazy as a horse would be more like it."

Anyway, I'm adjustable. I'm not always crazy, like some people I know.

Have a good whatever it is you are going to be doing for the next three weeks and if you see any distant relations tell them to keep their distance. Regards to the family, including those who must have gone back to school by this time.

Steel Tug Of War

By David Lawrence

Compromise Method Needed In Strike

Maybe next week there will be a settlement of the steel strike. Things point that way.

What has happened is that the labor union leaders have discovered that this time they cannot depend on the government to intervene. It has been a union objective all along to get the administration involved in some way because, as has happened heretofore, politics usually produces a beneficial result for the unions.

But President Eisenhower is standing firm. He is determined that, while the government will do all it can to assist any mediation process, nothing will be done to favor either side or to compel a settlement.

So the situation resolves itself into a tug of war between the negotiators.

Already, despite the pessimistic observations that have come lately from federal mediators, there are evidences that direct negotiation is producing some tangible results. At least, the issues are being dealt with by several special committees and a systematic procedure is being followed that is constructive.

WHAT THE NATION is witnessing is a demonstration of how difficult it really is to settle a strike that has hardened each side and made it perilous for unions or management to seem to be retreating.

How then does organized economic power get out of the dilemma into which a strike plunges management and unions?

It has been aptly said again and again about strikes that it is far easier to settle a major dispute before a strike ensues than afterward. This is because each side takes a fixed position publicly when a strike is called and then neither side can afford to back down.

Also, even when there is a disposition to settle a big strike, the question of how to do it is baffling.

Take two issues—one relating to so-called "feather bedding" and the other to the problem of wage increases.

How can contract clauses be written to cover all the various ways by which lots of different steel companies would describe the allocation of work to particular classes of workmen?

Unions naturally resist the introduction of machinery because, while the higher paid employees benefit, fewer jobs are available for the moment to many other workers.

IN THE LONG RUN, mechanization leads to increased volume of business and more employment but it is today's jobs—and not next year's—that cause the negotiators for the unions to worry when they realize what is really inevitable.

Also, how could David McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union, face his membership if he doesn't obtain in addition to "fringe" benefits, some kind of wage increase?

A strike that ends without any wage increase is usually regarded as a defeat and the union officers responsible are voted out of office in a subsequent election.

Maybe the steel companies, recognizing what Mr. McDonald is up against, will agree to some increase in wages. The employers like him as a labor leader.

As they look ahead, the question is who will control the rank and file in the future. Will it be a radical labor leader if the present strike ends on a basis that is disappointing to the union members or will Mr. McDonald be retained because the workers are convinced he has achieved all that, as a practical matter, it was possible to gain?

The steel companies know that a price increase for steel products would be unpopular and they have every intention of trying to forego such an increase as a contribution to the anti-inflationary fight being made today by those, inside and outside government, who understand the dangers of the wage-price spiral.

A WAGE INCREASE of some kind—perhaps a relatively small one, but nevertheless additional compensation that the workers will feel to some extent made the strike worth while—may be forthcoming. But it would have to be relatively small, since it would have to be coupled with an announcement that no price increases are to be made by the steel companies.

The way, broadly speaking, to settle the issues is well known to both sides but the big problem is how to handle the settlement, not only in the working of a large variety of contracts but in explaining the peace treaty to stockholders and union members.

About all that will be proved in the end is that strikes don't pay off for either side and that some way to reach agreement before a strike occurs must be devised if organized economic power isn't going to inflict greater and greater hardships hereafter on the industries and their workers, as well as on the nation as a whole.

Who Was Right?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
This is the kind of story you can paste in a dresser drawer and look at 10 years from now to see who was right: President Eisenhower or Sen. William Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat?

The TV talk Eisenhower made to the nation Thursday night on his discussions next week with Premier Nikita Khrushchev came one day after Fulbright made a stinging attack on him. Fulbright is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

There wasn't any real news in the President's talk: He's going to confer with Khrushchev on world problems. He talked mostly in generalities, and what he said had been reported before.

He could not be expected, of course, to show his hand if he is holding any cards to use on Khrushchev. He knows the whole Western world, now more than ever, is looking to him for leadership.

But it was the quality of that leadership which Fulbright questioned, even though Eisenhower in 1959 has shown an increasingly active leadership at home and abroad.

Fulbright, in a speech Wednesday, accused Eisenhower of timidity. Fulbright's statements can be summed up this way:

1. He thinks this country is doing far less than it should—in the way of work and greater sacrifices—to achieve its maximum strength in dealing with the Soviet Union and the cold war.

2. He said Eisenhower has been feeding the nation tranquilizing pills instead of using the full power of his office and prestige to get the maximum effort from Congress and the people.

The senator complained "it is nonsense to say we cannot afford" to do anything this country wants to do or should do. Here are some of the things Fulbright thinks need doing:

Spend a great deal on public school education; arm ourselves better; put foreign development loans on a long-term basis. He cited the steel strike as an example of wasted American resources and manpower.

He said that if this country undertook to do all the things he thinks are necessary the "Kremlin" would be a great deal more impressed than it is likely to be by evidence of our determination to balance the budget.

Eisenhower himself, in private talks, has mentioned the need for greater American work to compete with the Soviets whose long hours and national dedication have impressed him. But he hasn't called publicly for it.

Fulbright's complaint is that Eisenhower doesn't have enough confidence in the American people's willingness to work and sacrifice.

There is no doubt that Eisenhower, in his desire to keep down spending, has deliberately refrained from calling on Congress or the people for anything approaching all-out effort in work, spending, taxes, or production.

Fulbright particularly complained that Eisenhower has failed to use his prestige to get from Congress "the full arsenal of means he needs if America's purposes are to be successfully advanced around the world."

But Fulbright in turn failed to complain about his own Democrats in Congress where they overwhelmingly outnumber the Republicans and could have asserted leadership if they didn't think Eisenhower was providing it.

Instead, they followed the President meekly, despite occasional bleating that he wasn't thinking in big enough or broad enough terms.

To sum up for future reference: Eisenhower insists he knows what he's doing and the programs he asked for are sufficient in the cold war duel which will get tougher as the Soviet Union gets increasingly stronger, militarily and economically.

Fulbright says he's doing far less than enough.

The average American makes a very poor record as a book reader, compared with other countries of the world. In England, for example, the proportion of adults who are book readers is three times as high as in the United States. The average American library registers only about 25 per cent of the adult population in its area and, of these, only about 10 per cent are regular customers.

Signs Planned To Slow Autos At City Garage

Signs will be erected on Lisbon St. to slow traffic on the approach to the city garage near W. 9th St., Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today after another mishap involving a municipally-owned vehicle and an auto.

The crash at 3:55 p. m. Thursday damaged a 1959 model pickup truck of the street department, driven by Norman M. Dotson, 48, of 809 Louise St., and a 1959 four-door sedan driven by William G. Jones, 34, of 809 North Side Ave., police reported.

Dotson told police he was backing out of the city garage, which is located on a curve on Lisbon St. Jones said he saw the truck in time to apply his brakes, but his auto skidded on wet pavement and hit the right side of the truck. The right front of the car was damaged.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said he will erect signs upgrade and downgrade from the garage warning: "Caution, Truck Entrance," the director said.

A Midland man forfeited a $31 bond today in Municipal Court as the aftermath of an East End crash at 6:56 p. m. Thursday.

Willie Vaughn, 25, of 323 Penn Ave. was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a crash that damaged his 1957 car and another driven by Clifton B. Ash, 41, of 232 Indiana Ave., Chester. Ash was halted for a traffic signal at Pennsylvania Ave. and Mulberry St. when his car was hit from the rear by Vaughn's, police said.

A mishap at Walnut and E. 6th Sts. at 3:51 p. m. yesterday involved a 1955 auto driven by Gene Bell, 21, of 1242 Chaffin St. and a 1956 station wagon owned by Howard Pitts, 652 Minerva St., officers said.

Polio Shots

ed to receive the anti-polio shot still cannot be estimated because all of the slips granting permission have not been returned by parents. The parental request slips were sent home with the first and second grade pupils.

Nearly 1,200 pupils are enrolled in the first two grades in the public and parochial systems. However, many may have received the polio immunizations from their family physicians, authorities said.

A few parents still decline to allow their children to receive polio shots, authorities said. However, a great majority of those who refused when shots were administered two years ago now favor the polio immunization, they added.

Where parents refuse permission, authorities said they can appeal only to common sense because their "hands are tied" by a new law passed by the last session of the State Legislature.

The new law makes the immunization against polio, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus compulsory if the parents do not object. But the main difficulty is that parents can object without stating a reason, authorities explained.

Youngsters will be immunized only against polio in the current series of shots. The second immunization will be given 30 days after the first — about mid-October — and the final shot will be administered after a seven-month wait.

Council appropriated $1,500 last month to provide the vaccine for the program.

75 Attend Picnic Held By County's Teachers

LISBON — Seventy-five attended the Columbiana County Education Association's annual get-acquainted picnic for county school faculties Thursday evening at Willow Grove Park.

Principal Ralph Meyers of Fairfield-Waterford School District was program chairman and introduced County Supt. James L. McBride, who welcomed the new teachers in the county system.

Jerry Russell of No. 16 School in Yellow Creek Township was named temporary treasurer to succeed Mrs. Elsie Crawford, who moved to Florida.

A secretary will be appointed at the first meeting of the executive committee, succeeding Miss Mary Jane Stansel, who is no longer in the county system.

3 Science Instructors Will Train At Bethany

Three area science teachers will begin an in-service institute for junior and senior high school science teachers Saturday morning at Bethany College.

Scheduled to enroll in the program sponsored by the National Science Foundation are Ernest Pletcher of East Junior High School, Michael J. Mato of Wellsville High School and Charles B. Davis Jr. of Wells High School in Newell.

The course will be held each Saturday throughout the school year.

Chester High Classes Elect Term Officers

Reid Calcott was named president of the Chester High School Senior Class in class elections held Thursday afternoon.

Thomas Hindes was elected vice president; Ruth West secretary; William Mayhew treasurer, and David Stevens and Jane Williamson, Student Council representatives.

Juniors — Edwin Jordan, president; John Bickerstaff, vice president; Sharon Finley, secretary; Matthew Burnquist, treasurer, and William Mackall and Pamela Rockwell, Council.

Sophomores — Blaine Pinney, president; Sharon Finley, vice president; Patti Taylor, secretary; Jerry Smith, treasurer, and Albert Lyons and Donna Summers, Council.

Freshmen — Jeffrey Oyster, president; Karen Johnston, vice president; Grace Pinney, secretary; Roger Durbin, treasurer, and Robert Myers and Debbie Kimble, Council.

Calcott is also president of the Student Council, elected in May. Jordan is vice president, Ruth Ann Burch, secretary, and Jeanne Miller, treasurer.

East End Girl Injured In Fall On Sidewalk

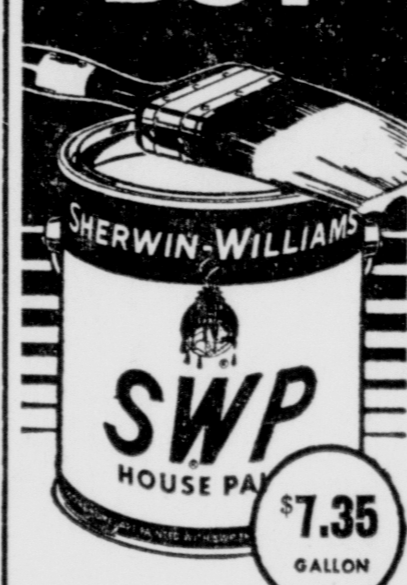

An East End girl, hurt in a fall on a sidewalk, was treated at City Hospital Thursday, along with two other children injured in separate mishaps.

Rhonda McDaniels, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McDaniels, 973 Ohio Ave., suffered a cut over the left eye in a fall on concrete walk.

Kathy Hutton, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutton of Salineville Rd., Wellsville, was treated for a spider bite of the leg.

Thomas McHaffie, 3, son of Mrs. Ruth McHaffie of Georgetown, suffered a laceration of the forehead when hit by a stone.

35 At Scouts Roundtable

Some 35 scouts attended the Cherokee District roundtable Wednesday evening at the Ohio Power Co.

Ken Mugridge, district field executive, reported on his attendance at the national scout executives' conference held Sept. 1-9 at the University of Michigan. Dr. Arthur Schuck, chief scout executive, presided.

William Rayburn, district camping activities chairman, was in charge of the scouts' session and announced that the Columbiana Scout Council's "camporall" will be held Sept. 25-27 at Camp McKinley at Lisbon.

Tom Snow, district training chairman, reported that training for adult cubbers, scouts and explorers will be held Sept. 19 from 1 to 5 p. m. at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Mrs. Doris Lock and Mrs. Jean Snow, both of Pack 12 of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, were in charge of the den mothers' session. John Hill, assistant district commissioner for cubbing, was in charge of the cubmasters' session.

Plans are being made for Scout Week, Dan Kelly, district commissioner, said, and he urged units to begin preparing displays for downtown stores.

He said plans are being made for scouts to elect candidates to hold city offices during Scout Week. He said it has been over 10 years since this type of activity has taken place.

Next roundtable will be Oct. 14 with the location to be announced.

Strike

fill delivery lines that were drawn dry prior to the strike.

Steel firms report heavy ordering for the fourth quarter already. An 80-day production resumption would start a wild scramble to build up sagging inventories and result in long waits for many customers.

A poll by the National Assn. of Purchasing Agents of big firms in the manufacturing field was summed up by saying:

"The steel strike hasn't hurt business yet, but if it isn't settled in 30 days manufacturing companies may have to cut back sharply."

The Associated Press state-by-state survey shows that most of the unemployment resulting from the steel strike so far has occurred in or near the big steel producing centers.

County's WCTU Officers Returned At Annual Event

Mrs. Mary Mayhew of Salem, president of the Columbiana County WCTU, and other officers were re-elected at the annual county convention at the East Palestine United Presbyterian Church Thursday. About 40 attended.

Other officers returned were Mrs. Lillie Lewton of Lisbon, vice president; Mrs. Doris Stratton of Salem, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Olive McCormick of Leetonia, recording secretary, and Miss Josephine Dunn of Salem, treasurer.

Mrs. Harold H. Brown of Mansfield, state president, spoke on "God's Work Done In God's Way." Reports and committee meetings were held in the forenoon, followed by a luncheon and afternoon program.

Miss Ruth Urie, president of the Wellsville Union, and three other Wellsville members attended.

Production Resumes At Twinsburg Plant

CLEVELAND — Second-shift production Thursday returned to near normal at the Chrysler Corp. stamping plant in Twinsburg, a company spokesman reported.

While workers returned to their jobs, members of the executive committee of Local 122, United Auto Workers, were in Detroit meeting with top union officers.

The workers returned after a Summit County judge ordered an end to picketing and the UAW international asked a return to work.

Nearly all of the plant's 3,500 production workers had refused to cross picket lines since last Friday after 12 employees, including the union local president, Nick Kosovich, were fired.

145 Go On Strike

WADSWORTH, Ohio (AP)—Production at the Wadsworth Foundry Co. was halted Thursday when 145 workers went on strike after failure to agree on a new three-year contract. The strikers are members of Local No. 1 International Moulders & Foundry Workers Union of North America.

Man Cited For Ignoring Light At Neville School

In the first case of its kind since the opening of the 1959-60 term, a motorist was cited Thursday for ignoring a traffic light near Neville School while youngsters were returning to classes after lunch.

James L. Fersch, 21, of 1732 Pennsylvania Ave. allegedly drove through a red light at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St., despite a whistle signal from an adult school crossing guard. He was cited at 12:25 p. m. by Patrolman Charles A. Winters.

Fersch forfeited an $11 bond today in Municipal Court.

An Announcement of Interest to Everyone

BETTER MEALS BUILD BETTER FAMILIES

BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 14, THIS NEWSPAPER—and newspapers all over the country—will begin a concerted two-week drive to focus attention on one of the basic necessities of your life—food.

Food manufacturers, distributors and local retailers will be cooperating in this nationwide movement—identified by the symbol shown on this page—"Better Meals Build Better Families."

The desire of your daily newspaper and people in the food business is to emphasize the importance of the family meal as the traditional gathering place for the family. The family meal rather than meals on the run is not only more nourishing but it makes for a better, more cohesive family relationship. A closer family is a better family.

Your daily newspaper is spearheading this drive because the newspaper is the number one means of food communication. Food is news—and the newspaper delivers this news daily through its food pages and through the advertisements of retailers and manufacturers.

You will be reading all about the "Better Meals Build Better Families" campaign in the days to come. Look for announcements in the pages of your "Total Selling" medium—the daily newspaper.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Instill Respect For Teacher In Child

You hope the teacher of your child will treat and talk about and think about this child as a real and precious person. You also want to treat and talk about and think about this teacher in like manner. Beginning in the kindergarten or first grade, you want to know the name of your child's teacher. Fine if you had known her name and met her before school began. Wisely the teacher in the early grades usually writes her name on the board and says it for her pupils. She writes it as "Miss Foster," for instance, the way she wishes her children to address her. When your child comes home he refers to this teacher as Miss Foster. From then on through the school year you parents often hear of Miss Foster. Hers becomes a familiar name to all the family, relatives and neighbors.

MISS FOSTER and other teachers who follow her in later years may have a big place in your child's affection and esteem. In spite of anything you say or do, this may be so.

To many a child in kindergarten or the primary grades, the teacher is always right in what she says or does. Don't be shocked or hurt on hearing this child, following some utterance of yours, say: "Oh, no! Miss Foster said..." As a rule you will be very wise

if you reply: "If she said it, it's so." You will be happy over the faith your child has in his teacher. You would not wish to lessen or destroy his faith. Instead, you will strive to confirm and strengthen it.

However, there may come a time when the child in the third, fourth or higher grades may drop an unfavorable remark about a teacher or may casually report something about school to cause you to feel critical of her.

Unless you are on guard, and very discreet, you may express criticism then and there and thus encourage the child to go on amplifying, even mildly exaggerating.

As a result, you could cause the child to be permanently antagonistic to this teacher and later ones.

AT SUCH times, allow the child to report matters as he sees them, so long as he is not abusive, but pass no judgment then. If you should consider the matter sufficiently serious, you might wait a few days and pray for poise and reason in the meanwhile and then go, as a highly cultivated person, to talk the matter over at the school.

Thereafter, please lose no opportunity to refer to the traits and ways of this teacher that you like, hoping to rebuild in your child a growing faith in his teacher and mounting esteem for her.

My bulletin "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Music Instrument Demonstrations Set At 2 Schools

The instrumental music department of city schools will hold an instrument demonstration program Monday at Westgate Junior High School and Tuesday at East Junior High. Both will begin at 7:30 p. m.

The purpose of the program is to give students and their parents an opportunity to see and hear the various band and orchestra instruments. The students will also be given a chance to try the instruments to help them decide which instrument they should study.

Representatives from local music stores will be present to explain rental plans.

Fourth grade students may study stringed instruments, while fifth and sixth graders may take lessons on any band or orchestra instrument. The schools provide free weekly lessons through the sixth grade.

Don Allen is supervisor of instrumental music.

Cumberland Students Enrolled At Colleges

NEW CUMBERLAND — Two June graduates of New Cumberland High School have entered West Virginia colleges as freshmen.

Miss Linda Ghenne, daughter of Mrs. Betty Ghenne of Eden Valley, has enrolled at West Liberty State College, and Philip Allan Herman, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Herman, 209 N. Chester St., has entered Bethany College.

Miss Ghenne was salutatorian of the 1959 Senior Class and will study languages and religion. A cheerleader, she also was a member of the Student Council, a representative to Camp Horseshoe and editor of the yearbook.

Herman was manager of the basketball team and was a member of the Spanish Club. He plans to enter the field of accounting.

Polio Shot Data Will Be Collected

Information on polio shots will be collected from a number of local families in connection with the September Current Population Survey, Director Edgar L. Bryan of the Census Bureau's regional field office at Pittsburgh, announced today.

The information is being collected for the U.S. Public Health Service so that estimates of the number of persons who have had polio shots can be brought up to date. The polio shot questions, to be

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You hear a lot about husbands who snore. Well, I've got a wife who snores and I don't know what to do about it.

She's the dainty type and to look at her you'd never suspect it but her snoring sounds like a 200-pound man. I hate to tell her she snores because she's sensitive (and vain) and this would be a blow to her ego.

I haven't had a good night's sleep in the four months we've been married. Don't suggest ear plugs, please. I've tried them and was up all night worrying that I might not hear an emergency telephone call.

If you can help me solve this one you're a genius.—BEAT NICK.

Dear Beatnik: Snoring is an involuntary act over which we have no control. A person should not be ashamed of snoring any more than he should be proud that he does not.

Stop sacrificing yourself on the altar of her vanity and tell the dainty one that her nocturnal wood-sawing is preventing you from getting badly needed rest. Suggest that she see a doctor. Sometimes an obstruction in the nasal passage is the cause for snoring and can be easily remedied.

For tonight I suggest you move her head tenderly to the side when the snoring begins. A change in the position of the head often helps — for awhile.

Intruding Aunt

Dear Ann: I have a very nice steady boy friend but I'm afraid if things don't change at our house I'll lose him.

I was 16 in May and am allowed two evenings a week with Monty. He doesn't have any spare money so he can't take me any place. I don't mind staying home but an elderly aunt who lives with us won't let us alone for five minutes.

Auntie plants herself in the living room and listens to every word we say. I've complained to Mom but she says Auntie has so little happiness in life that it would be cruel to deprive her of this small pleasure.

My Mom is a tender-hearted person who wouldn't hurt a fly. She's usually right about everything. Is she right about this? ALVA.

Dear Alva: It's admirable that your mother is so considerate of your elderly aunt but she's being unfair to you.

You should not have to entertain your boy friend in the presence of a third party. No boy in his right mind will put up with this for very long.

It's your mother's responsibility to suggest that auntie give you privacy when your boy friend calls.

P.S. to Mom: Teen-agers who can't entertain comfortably at home arrange to meet friends elsewhere. And this can be bad.

Learn From Mistake

Dear Ann: For 20 years my husband and I worked hard together in a business. I raised four children and believe me it wasn't easy.

For 15 years my husband and I never went to a movie together. One of us always had to be on the job. We were slaves to the place.

Three years ago, we invested all our savings in a venture which I was against. We lost it. Now we've saved a little money again and he wants to invest in the same thing. I say no. He's so angry he hardly speaks to me.

Shall I give in to keep peace—and take a chance on losing everything? We're too old to start over.—TOO TIRED TO FIGHT.

Dear Tired: The only good thing about mistakes is what we can learn from them. Tell your husband to tack this motto in his hat band and keep your savings for the evening of your lives.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

28 High Schools Have Students In Steubenville C.

Freshmen students from 28 district high schools have registered for classes as full-time students for the fall semester at The College of Steubenville.

Records show that students from 21 different Pennsylvania high schools were registered as freshmen. Many are from Pittsburgh city schools. There are also students from three foreign countries and nine states on the freshman class roster.

Ohio topped the list with a total of 81 freshmen registered, the majority coming from Steubenville Catholic Central and Steubenville High School. Toronto, Wintersville and Mingo were tied for third place with 10 each.

Largest number of West Virginia registrants came from Weir High School and Madonna High School, of Weirton. West Virginia's delegation numbered 35.

Foreign countries represented in the student body are Venezuela, Italy and Greece.

Registration for late-comers and night college students will continue throughout the week. The last day for change of classes—and enrollment for the fall term—is Tuesday, Sept. 22.

To Build Convent

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church will build a $200,000 convent in downtown Zanesville, it was announced Thursday. The four-story structure will include a chapel.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Totality, Perhaps Too Late

Ob, the fall previews are with us — tra la tra la.

The magazines are coming out with a rash of picture spreads, showing what's coming up in the fall — pictures of Henry

Fonda punching somebody, Laurence Olivier going to pot in "Moon and Sixpence," statements from David Suskind deploring things. Every year, NBC-TV shows its wares in a closed-circuit preview which brings together Dave Garraway and Milton Berle and Robert Sarnoff, making little jokes about it.

"Well, here I am again for my annual comeback," said Berle.

"This time I'm coming back from where my sponsor told me to go.

"I have no complaints about television. In fact, I'll go on record and say it's the best training ground a comedian ever had for oblivion."

And so forth for some time and pretty funny, too.

TOTALITY is the NBC word for 1959-60. Conceivably because of dis-gruntlement in Washington where Congress is making investigatory noises, NBC is spreading the idea that its schedule is designed to fit every intellectual level.

"We've tried to make a real event of every night of the week and to encompass every area of entertainment, news and information," said Sarnoff.

"On three nights we'll apply our new programming concept of specials in fixed weekly time periods. We'll present more than 200 specials from September through May, twice as many as ever. Altogether, the nighttime schedules will be 50 per cent new."

This little speech represents not so much the network's plans as the network's particular neurosis.

Networks (not NBC in particular but all of them) took an awful editorial shellacking last year for the numbing sameness and unoriginality of their programming and, by George, this year, it's at least going to talk big about its variety, its multi-leveled attack and all that.

HUBBELL ROBINSON explained:

"We have no formula unless there's a formula in excellence of content, unlimited scope and stars of the first magnitude.

"For example, our first show is 'The Wonderful World of Entertainment,' starring Rosalind Russell, produced by Jess Oppenheim with Fore Schary as creative consultant.

"And during the next 12 weeks of drama, comedy, variety and novelty shows we'll offer the talents of Ingrid Bergman, Sir Alec Guinness, Shirley Booth, Jimmy Stewart, Marian Anderson, Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra, Tony Curtis, George Burns, Ethel Merman, Alfred Hitchcock, Jerry Lewis."

WELL, THAT sounds more like it.

In the first place, the shows sound different and they sound important — whether they work out that way or not. There always has been a deep division in television's upper echelon — those who believe television should be a big, important medium and those of the quiz-and-cowboy or gimcrack school who believe that TV is just a big candy store ripe for looting.

The candy store bunch have loaded television with Warner Bros. Westerns and game shows, but I think the pendulum is beginning to swing back toward the big show philosophy this year.

It may be too late. Enormous numbers of intelligent people have totally lost interest in television, turned off the set or given it over to the children. It's going to be awfully hard to get them back.

Accountants Elect 2 With Midland Firms

Two employees of two Midland firms have been named as new directors for the fiscal year 1959-60 of the Beaver Valley Chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

They are M. E. Jurkovic of the Crucible Steel Co., meetings director, and J. L. Allison of Treadwell Construction Co., attendance director.

The chapter met Thursday evening at the Babcock & Wilcox Co. in Beaver Falls and approved the program schedule for the forthcoming season.

Board To Ask Levy Renewal For Wellsville

A resolution was adopted to place a 2-mill levy on the Nov. 3 ballot for renewal at a meeting of the Wellsville Board of Education Thursday night.

The board had delayed action on adopting the resolution until last night, as a new state law effective yesterday allows levies to be submitted for a 10-year period. Otherwise, it would have been for only 5 years.

The 2-mill renewal is outside the 10-mill limitation and will be for operating expenses. The levy doesn't expire until the end of 1960 but if it fails of approval, it can be placed on the ballot again next year.

The meeting was a resumption of the August session which had been recessed.

Raymond Rolley, clerk, reported on the operation of the cafeteria, which was opened Tuesday for the first time. He said the service is going on smoothly.

The new cafeteria is in the basement of the high school building. A dishwasher, potato peeler, and a large mixer remain to be installed.

Rolley outlined the duties of the four women of the staff and said about 10 students will be utilized. The students are given a free meal each day for their work.

Rolley said no complaints have been received from the students on the quality or type of food. He said a local physician visited the cafeteria and remarked that the children were being given a well-balanced meal.

Following the meeting, board members toured the kitchen and were shown how it operates.

The regular meeting will be Monday night at 7:30.

Drainage Conference To Wait State Official

LISBON — County commissioners and Middleton Township trustees postponed a conference on a drainage problem when no one from the State Highway Department appeared at the meeting Thursday morning at the Courthouse. It probably will be held when a state official can attend.

The meeting was called to try and eliminate water running into cellars of the Methodist Church, Masonic Temple and a number of homes on Route 154 in Negley.

The township trustees, Stewart Dyke, Norman Wright and Dalton Pike, requested the meeting with the commissioners, R. Max Gard, Walter Hunston and Frank Wilson, and highway representatives.

They claim they cannot remedy the problem alone because of lack of funds and they ask for assistance from the county and state.

City Man And Woman Held For Delinquency

An East Liverpool man and woman are being held in the County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bonds on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of her five minor children.

Raymond P. Waite, 33, of 243 1/2 W. 4th St., and Mrs. Violet Boswell, 42, of 243 W. 4th St., will be given a hearing Thursday, Sept. 24.

They pleaded not guilty at a preliminary hearing Thursday before Judge Louis Tobin, accused of living together as man and wife without being married.

Charges were filed by juvenile authorities and the children were turned over to the Welfare Department until disposal of the case.

Actress May Britt Suing For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress May Britt is suing to end her 19-month marriage to wealthy college student Edward Gregson.

She charged cruelty in a complaint filed Thursday.

Q. Can a person be nervous without showing outward signs? Can nervousness cause the hair to fall out? Would drugs help?

A. Anxiety and tension need not be outwardly displayed. Anxiety is present in all people and, like pain, serves the useful purpose of warning us against dangers. Trouble comes when tension increases and anxiety mounts toward panic proportions. Although "nervousness" in itself may not cause hair loss, anxiety certainly has a profound effect upon the physiology and chemistry of the body. Persons who feel inadequate, tense, and incapable of dealing with life situations need professional assistance. Doctors now have drugs which help relieve anxiety but these alone may not be sufficient. The cause of undue anxiety must be sought for and eliminated if possible.

Beaver Local Board Seeks Levy Renewal

A resolution to place a current 3-mill levy up for renewal for 10 years in the November election was approved by the Board of Education of the Beaver Local School District at a meeting Thursday night.

The levy, first voted in 1958 and due to expire in 1961, provides some $30,000 annually for school operations and some salaries. George VanHorne, executive head, said.

The proposed renewal would be for 10 years under a new state law which provides for longterm levies outside the 10-mill limitation.

In other action, the board hired Miss Helen Ryan of East Liverpool to teach at the Public School and John Lamont of Broadman to teach sophomore English at the high school.

Mrs. Betty Wilkinson of Oakmont was employed as a full-time cook at the high school, and Mrs. Donna Barnhart of near Calcutta was hired as a part-time cook at the Calcutta School.

VanHorne reported the current school enrollment now stands at 2,105, an increase of about 70 over last year.

The enrollment by grades is: 278 first, 219 second, 211 third, 182 fourth, 185 fifth, 197 sixth, 163 seventh, 149 eighth, 143 ninth, 150 tenth, 199 eleventh and 109 twelfth.

VanHorne reported on the operations of the transportation system — 26 buses traveling 1,200 miles daily, carrying some 1,900 pupils. The board authorized the purchase of a money chest and approved a policy of banking all school money daily, to prevent losses through thefts, such as in the recent burglary at the Public School.

The next meeting will be Sept. 28.

Board Meeting Reset

LISBON — The village Board of Education meeting scheduled for Tuesday evening has been postponed to Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 7:30 p. m., according to Supt. Loren E. M.

8 Reserve Banks Begin Paying 4% Interest Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Member banks borrowing from eight branches of the Federal Reserve system today start paying 4 per cent interest, the highest rate in 29 years.

The expected 1/2 per cent increase in the discount rate was announced late Thursday for Reserve banks in New York, Cleveland, Richmond, Chicago, St. Louis, Dallas, San Francisco and Kansas City.

The system's other four banks are expected to start charging the increased rate before long.

Other short term interest charges have climbed sharply in the last month. The rate on three-month treasury bills, for example, has increased since early August from just over 3 per cent to nearly 4 per cent.

Today's discount rate increase is the fifth since the board adopted a policy of tightening credit after the 1958 recession. Rates went as low as 1 3/4 per cent during the recession.

Drowns 15 Minutes Before His Retirement

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP)—Frank R. Duggan drowned Thursday, 15 minutes short of retirement.

The Tulsa cement finisher was 65 Wednesday. Just before the end of his last day of work at a sewer plant project here, he toppled from a scaffold into a five-foot deep pit half filled with water.

2 Youths Injured As Car Overturns

Two northern Columbiana County youths were injured Thursday night when their car spun off a curve of Route 14 near Columbiana and rolled over into a field. Richard J. Robertson, 19, of Columbiana R. D. 1, driver, suffered a possible concussion, a fractured left hip and cuts of the eyes and lip. He is in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital. Terry Lee Rock, 16, of 298 E.

Clark St., East Palestine, was treated for bruises of the forehead and released. The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Robertson lost control on a curve about 1.3 miles east of Route 7, and veered to the left side of the road, overturning. His 1959 sedan was damaged heavily, the patrol said, and he has been charged with reckless operation. The mishap occurred about 9:30. The 555-foot Washington Monument in Washington, D. C., now has aircraft-warning lights.

Crucible Presented Safety Plaque

The National Safety Council's award of honor plaque has been given to the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works.

J. D. Dickerson, at left, member of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council's Board of Directors, presented the plaque to George M. Burrier, Works Manager. Dickerson is also Crucible's vice president of operations.

Crucible's Midland plant was given the award for more than 3 million man-hours worked without a disabling injury. The record, 3,200,000 man-hours, was compiled by the plant from Jan. 29 to April 20.

The achievement came during a period of increasing production and the recalling of laid-off employees or placing of new employees — a period when the steel industry was encountering an increase in accident frequency. This marks the sixth time the Midland plant received the award of honor since 1954 — one of the top records in the area.

PITTSBURGH — Delbert A. Burman has been appointed assistant director of purchases by the Crucible Steel Co. He was formerly buyer in the company's purchasing division.

Farewell Given Pastor And Wife

Rev. and Mrs. Russell C. Owens and family were honored with a farewell party given by the deacons Thursday night in the social rooms of the Grace United Presbyterian Church.

They are leaving Tuesday for Carmichael, Pa., where he has accepted a pastorate. Jack Barrett was master of ceremonies.

An old-fashioned hymn sing was enjoyed by the group with Mrs. Erma Conklin accompanist. Mr. and Mrs. David Brandon sang "Some Golden Day," with Mrs. Brandon pianist. Marion Harger led in prayer.

Nelson Stull, chairman of the deacons, presented the couple with a transistor radio as a gift from the church.

Two large cakes, decorated by Mrs. Jane Burlingame, centered the buffet table. One was inscribed "Happiness and Prosperity" and the other showed a family scene. Pink candles and flowers completed the setting.

Refreshments were served 65 by Mrs. Agnes Barrett, Mrs. Mabel Waggle and Mrs. Lillie Clemenson, deaconesses.

Muscle Stimulation Gives Healthy Feeling

Do you feel dragged out and utterly weary at the end of the day? Chances are you need more physical exercise. It's difficult to regard exercise as a way of alleviating fatigue, but the body is a work machine. Life today doesn't call for strong muscles, but we do need to be made strong on the inside. Exercise stirs up the circulation and strengthens the muscles which surround the vital organs.

The man or woman who can walk part way to work is fortunate. Those who must drive are deprived of this routine way to keep in condition. But we can walk when the day's work is over, have regular workout in a gym, or take shape-ups in the form of calisthenics.

A GOOD WAY to take the boredom out of calisthenics is to wake up and stretch. A thorough going tip to toe stretch is rousing exercise. This natural tug-of-muscle is a powerful stimulus to the circulation.

For a morning waker — upper, stretching from a lying down position is easiest. Do it nature's way. When you awaken, bend your elbows and sort of stretch them out to each side, expanding your chest. Take a deep breath, lifting your chest, and push back with your head.

You'll just naturally feel like pushing down hard with your heels as you stretch arms far out at sides. You'll want to twist and turn a bit, pull and yawn. Then let go... release the muscles slowly. Ah, it's wonderful! Now stretch again... make it a real rouser.

To tone the abdominal muscles and quicken energy, do a contraction exercise. Still lying comfortable in bed, bend your knees and have soles of feet flat. The exercise movement is to raise hips slightly off bed and tilt them up to the right, pulling in forcibly with the side — front abdominal muscles — hold. Hold to a slow count of six, breathing normally. Now tilt hips toward left, pull in strongly with oblique muscles and again hold.

From the same starting position, knees flexed, have arms down at sides. Now lift hips off bed to a straight line... do not arch small of back. The exercise is to lower your back to the bed, one vertebra after the other. Repeat three or four times, slowly.

AS SOON AS you get the gist of this exercise, pull up — and — in strongly when hips are in the raised position — hold this pull as hips are slowly lowered to bed.

Breathe freely throughout exercise.

Finish with a luxurious long drawn-out stretch... then you are ready for the day.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled "Wake Up And Stretch." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered. (c) 1959 King Features

Library At Wellsville Will Hold Open House

The Carnegie Public Library in Wellsville will hold open house Sunday afternoon to display newly-arranged facilities and an oil painting by a former Wellsville resident.

One of the new facilities is a children's room in the basement social room.

Harland A. Riker of Wellesley, Mass., a professional artist, has painted his remembrance of Wellsville as seen from Congo.

The open house will be held from 3 to 5 p. m. Children must be accompanied by their parents to be admitted during the open house.

Wellsville Arts Club and Women's Civic Club members will serve refreshments.

Midland Opens Defense Of Beaver County Crown Tonight

Beaver Falls Is Opponent Of Leopards

Midland High School's Leopards open defense of their Beaver County Class A title tonight at home against Beaver Falls and indications are that Coach John Petchel's squad may again be kingpins of their league.

Chances of the Leopards repeating as county winners seem to hinge on two factors — escaping of serious injuries and development of reserves up from last year's club.

Kickoff time tonight is at 8 in the Lincoln High School stadium. Midland has tied Beaver Falls, 6-6, two years running.

Petchel, who always steers a wide path around any season predictions, has nine returning lettermen to help plug the gaps left by graduated seniors.

The veteran mentor lost fleet halfback Nick Vuckovich, quarterback Ray Keller, halfback Jim Curry, and Jim Golpin and center Steve Ordich from the championship club of 1958 which compiled a fine 6-2-1 record.

Vuckovich, leading scorer with 42 points last season, was a victim of Pennsylvania's high school age requirement law. Another halfback, Bobby Vaughn, also is missing.

Heading the returning letter winners is giant tackle-fullback Movie Smith, 6-foot, 3-inch, 210-pound senior. Smith, a three-sports star, may see action tonight both at fullback and on the line.

Other returnees are Frank D'Ermo, 155-pound guard; Gene Epley, 190, and Ronnie Perkins, 190, tackles; Gene Gerra, 190, guard; Rudy Krivosia, 165, and Martin Schulte, 165, both halfbacks, and Ken Russell, 160-pound quarterback. All are seniors except Perkins, who is a junior.

Schulte, a fair runner, also is valuable as a kicker, having booted 15 through the uprights during last season.

Petchel listed seniors he is depending on for action, besides lettermen, as Jim Prince, 150, Lou Hapach, 145, and Bill White, 145, all halfbacks; Barney Silverman, 185, center; Francis Sopko, 165, guard; Bernard Vukelich, 170, Gary Grove, 160, and Bill McGeehan, 150, ends, and Charles Joseph, 155-pound fullback.

Also due for plenty of action are nine juniors. They are: Don Camp, 140, John McMillen, 160, ends; Bob Krizan, 175, fullback; John Minehart, 175, tackle; Dan Orlando, 140, Dan Ulizio, 145, and Ron Caione, 160, halfbacks. John Chevelier, 160, is a guard candidate.

Besides attaining the county title in 1958, the Leopards also were named Midwestern Pennsylvania Class A champions.

Schedule-wise, opponents remain the same except for Steubenville Central Catholic, dropped in favor of Taylor Allderdice. Midland defeated Central, 13-6, in a top battle last fall.

One of Midland's two losses in 1958 was a 9-7 decision to Bradock, which had run a string of 40 consecutive victories. A safety gave Bradock the decision.

Ohio Griddle Hurt

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Sophomore center Ray Dillon of Mansfield, Ohio, missed Thursday's Northwestern football drill because of a leg injury suffered in Wednesday's practice. He will be out of action for several days, said coach Ara Parseghian.

Preview Tonight May Draw 5,000

If the Ohio weatherman's prediction of pleasant weather for tonight is as accurate as was the forecast of rain Thursday, more than 5,000 fans may fill the Patterson Field stadium tonight to watch the fifth annual "pigskin preview" of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

Eight local squads will take part in the abbreviated games. East Liverpool High School's Band will conduct a flag-raising ceremony at 6:50, with the opening kickoff set for 7.

Wellsville and Columbiana will battle in the first game. Beaver Local and Toronto will meet in the second at 7:50. Salem and Lisbon will play the third at 8:40. The finale will pit East Liverpool's Pottery against Leetonia, beginning at 9:30.

Ed Hester and Dick Forzano, club chairmen, report all in readiness for the preview.

Ortega Tangles With Fernandez On TV Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Hard punching Florentino Fernandez of Santiago, Cuba, meets Gaspar Ortega, a ring veteran at 23, in a 10-round welterweight bout tonight. Champion Don Jordan probably awaits the winner.

Promoter Chris Dundee has offered Jordan $50,000 to defend his title here Dec. 4.

Jordan and his manager, Don Neseeth are expected to see tonight's fight from ringside.

This will be Fernandez' second appearance in this country. In his last outing, he whipped Stephen Redl in seven rounds at Madison

Legion Enrolls 46 In Bowling Teams

Some 46 members of South Side Memorial American Legion Post 952 have signed up for bowling and teams and captains will be chosen Monday at 6:45 p. m. at the Clinton Bowling Alleys, Jack Moore, adjutant, said.

A brief meeting was held Wednesday evening at the Hookstown post home, conducted by candlelight due to a power line failure in the area.

Steve Belich, building committee chairman, reported on plans for tiling the dance floor of the recreation room and for new double doors at the main entrance. Exterior painting of the post home has been completed.

The annual turkey shoot will be held Saturday, Nov. 21, at the post home. Walter Allison will be chairman, assisted by Ralph Wells and John Miles.

Refreshments were served by Homer Matchett and his lunch committee. Richard Trimble, commander, presided. Next meeting will be Sept. 23.

Chester's Eleven Hosts South Side

Chester High's Panthers will battle visiting South Side and Midland will entertain rival Beaver Falls in the headliners of a three-game regular season football card tonight.

The other game will find Wells High's Vikings of Newell traveling to Cameron. Saturday's lone contest pits New Cumberland against Northwestern, Pa.

Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers—victorious over New Cumberland in their season's opener last week—seek their second straight triumph in inaugurating their home schedule. Kickoff time is 8 at Chester City Park.

The Panthers, with a strong line and a corp of hard-running backs, are a decided favorite to sweep past Coach Dave Nichol's South Side Rams.

The Pennsylvanians have 10 lettermen returning from last season, but are expected to be hampered by lack of size. Leading the Rams' offensive attack will be halfback Rich Ashcroft, 160-pounder.

Midland and Beaver Falls have tied twice in the last two years and a tough battle shapes up for tonight as Midland begins defense of its Beaver County Class A crown. The kickoff is set for 8 at the Lincoln High School stadium.

Newell, with a miserable 1-7 season record last year, will have to muster all its potential to slip by tough Cameron. Horozsko has 16 letter winners inherited from last fall.

New Cumberland, although losing its opening game, 13-0, to Chester, should improve on last year's winning record but is meeting a new opponent Saturday night at Northwestern.

Meanwhile, eight area teams will see abbreviated action tonight in the Blue and White Nonpareil Club's football preview at Patterson Field. Regular season play for most Ohio squads will begin Sept. 18.

Richmond, Havana Add To Playoff Edge

Deron Johnson's bat may hold the secret of why the supposedly docile Richmond Vees hold a 2-0 edge on pennant-winning Buffalo in the International League's best-of-7 semifinal playoff series.

Johnson clubbed his seventh homer off Buffalo pitching Thursday night in leading the Vees to a 4-1 victory. He had one the night before as Richmond got its first win over the favored Bisons.

In the other game Thursday, Havana took a 2-0 lead on Columbus with a 5-1 triumph.

Giants Test Bears Tonight In Exhibition

By JIM KENSIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
A team can get too good too soon in the National Football League. It happened to Cleveland more than once in recent years. The Browns ran out of drive and lost key late-season games.

But the 1959 Chicago Bears have no choice. If they are to be the best in the NFL, they can't get too good too soon. By mid-season George Halas' Chicago team will have met the world champion Baltimore Colts twice in Western Conference play and will have completed another pair with the Los Angeles Rams, who tied the Bears for second in the conference last season.

There is no time to waste for the Bears, and they seem to realize it. They've swept four exhibition games, totaling 106 points in the last two.

Tonight that powerful offense meets a stiff test in the point-stingy New York Giants, defending Eastern Conference champions. The Giants dropped their first two games but have squared their exhibition record at 2-2 by posting consecutive shutouts over Detroit and Green Bay.

The Giants-Bears exhibition is at Soldier Field, Chicago, and will be the first of three NFL pre-season games on television (CBS, 11:15 p. m., EDT) this weekend.

Saturday night the Washington Redskins meet the Green Bay Packers at Winston-Salem, N.C., with ABC carrying the TV nationwide at 10 p. m., EDT. Sunday's TV game is Detroit at Cleveland (CBS, 3 p. m., EDT).

Rounding out a full weekend schedule are these games; Chicago Cardinals at Pittsburgh tonight; San Francisco at Los Angeles Saturday night, and Baltimore at Philadelphia Sunday afternoon.

Noah Amstutz, born in Wayne County, Ohio, in 1864, devised the first photo-telegraph system.

Expect To Face Best Pitchers, Al Lopez Says

WASHINGTON (AP)— Since there is special joy in knocking off the favorite, every club in the American League is likely to throw its best against Chicago and Cleveland, the pennant contenders.

"That's the way it is, and we expect it," Al Lopez of the White Sox remarked today.

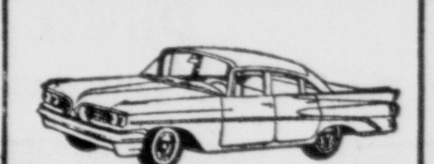

The league leading Chicagoans were happy to leave the capital after encountering the best Washington's last place team had to offer Thursday night. Camilo Pascual mystified them with just about every pitch in the book. He struck out 10 and allowed only four hits. His partners rose to the challenge, slamming three two-run homers among 11 hits off five Chicago hurlers.

The result: an 8-2 humiliation for the White Sox.

Baltimore spared the White Sox further shame by simultaneously whipping Cleveland 6-1.

Indians, Beaten, 6-1, Blow Chance To Gain On White Sox

Chicago Humbled, 8-2, On Washington Homers

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Early Wynn has a 19-9 record this season for the Chicago White Sox. Bud Daley is 15-12 for Kansas City. Hoyt Wilhelm is 14-11 for Baltimore. All three have winning records over Cleveland.

So what? So it's a bit ironic that the Indians, who once owned all three, now are so hard up for pitching while trying to stay alive in that American League pennant race that they're going to give infielder Granny Hamner another crack at it.

Hamner tried once before. One of the Whiz Kids who brought the National League pennant to Philadelphia in 1950, he took a shot at pitching with the Phils in 1956 because of an ailing shoulder that gave him trouble when he batted.

The experiment didn't work. He pitched just nine innings in four games over two seasons for an 0-1 record.

Wilhelm, the knuckleballing right-hander Cleveland didn't want, hung the Indians up to dry again Thursday night, clipping their winning streak at six with a three-hitter as Baltimore beat the second place Tribe 6-1. That left Cleveland 4½ games behind the White Sox, who were belted 8-2 by Washington but reduced their magic number to 11.

New York regained third place with a 12-1 romp over Kansas

City, the A's 13th straight loss, while Detroit dropped to fourth with a 7-3 defeat at Boston.

In the National League, Milwaukee and Los Angeles, tied for second, trimmed San Francisco's lead to two games. The Giants lost 5-3 to Pittsburgh while the Braves, winning five in a row, beat St. Louis 7-4 and the Dodgers Roger Craig's three-hitter. Cincinnati split a pair at Chicago, winning 10-4 before the Cubs took a 6-3 decision.

The White Sox were knocked over by three Washington home runs that backed a four-hitter by Camilo Pascual (15-10). Harmon Killebrew, tying Cleveland's Rocky Colavito for the AL lead with his 40th, Jim Lemon and Lennie Green tagged the homers, all two-run shots.

Dick Donovan (9-8) was the loser.

Wilhelm missed a shutout over the Indians in the eighth inning on a walk, two passed balls and an infield out. Russ Nixon singled for two of Cleveland's hits, Woody Held doubled for the other.

Brooks Robinson drove in four runs for the Birds, hammering a three-run homer in the eighth off reliever Herb Score. He doubled home their first run as they scored three in the fourth against loser Cal McLish (17-8).

MacKay Gains Quarterfinals In U.S. Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Towering Barry MacKay shook his head sadly today and complained:

"Boy, am I being bugged about that second service of mine."

Barry, a civilian less than a week after a stint in the Air Force, faces Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas in one of the four quarterfinals on the schedule in the national tennis championships.

In the others, Neale Fraser of Australia goes against Luis Ayala of Chile, Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn tackles Rod Laver of Australia and top-seeded Alex Olmedo of Los Angeles faces Roy Emerson of Australia.

"You know," said MacKay, who gained his bracket with a 6-4, 6-4, 9-7 triumph over Bob Mark of Australia Thursday, "everyone seems to be talking about my second service. Why don't I get it in, they ask me. Or, why don't I play it safe."

"But I really think I have it licked. I'm not double faulting as much as I used to (10 against Mark)."

Top-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil, fourth-seeded Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., Louise Brough Clapp of Pasadena, Calif., and Karen Hantze of San Diego, Calif., all gained the quarterfinals in the women's division.

Miss Bueno and Mrs. Brasher clash in one quarter-final while Miss Hard meets Miss Hantze in another. In the others, Sandra Reynolds of South Africa, seeded No. 2, meets sixth-seeded Ann Haydon of England, and Christine Truman of England, No. 3, plays Dorothy Head Knodel of Panama.

Booked On Suspicion

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Raymond Sweat, 74, was booked on a charge of suspicion and released under $500 bond Thursday in the fatal shooting of his son-in-law, James Morgan McVay, 39. Sweat, who surrendered to police, said the shooting at Sweat's home Wednesday night was accidental. He said he was using a shotgun to prod McVay off his porch and the gun accidentally discharged.

Braves, Dodgers Win

Pirates Trip Giants, 5-3

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Things don't look good for San Francisco's Giants in that National League pennant race. Not with the Milwaukee Braves riding a five-game streak after two perk-up, come-from-behind victories and Los Angeles pitchers back in business.

The Braves and Dodgers, tied for second, trimmed San Francisco's lead to two games Thursday as the Giants and 19-game winner Johnny Antonelli blew a 3-1 lead and lost 5-3 to Pittsburgh.

Milwaukee moved in with a four-run seventh inning that beat St. Louis 7-4. And Los Angeles kept the pace with a 5-0 job on Philadelphia as Roger Craig gave the Dodger staff two consecutive three-hit shutouts and a string of 23 scoreless innings.

Cincinnati split a pair at Chicago, winning 10-4 before the Cubs took a 7-3 decision.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox lost 8-2 at Washington but retained a 4½-game edge when Baltimore defeated second place Cleveland 6-1 on Hoyt Wilhelm's three-hitter. New York took third place, by a half-game over Detroit, with a 12-1 romp over the Kansas City A's, who now have lost 13 in a row.

Boston beat the Tigers, 7-3. Craig (8-5), a right-hander who hadn't put away a complete game against the Phillies in 10 tries since 1956, faced the minimum 18 men over the last six innings while matching Don Drysdale's three-hit job of Wednesday night.

The Dodgers beat Don Cardwell (9-8) with a pair of unearned runs in the first inning on an error, walk and Norm Larker's single. Their other three came in the fifth when Maury Wills, who had four of their seven hits, and Charley Neal each tripled.

Milwaukee built a 3-0 lead against Larry Jackson, who had shut out the Dodgers and Giants in his last two starts, but the Cards took a 4-3 lead with three runs in the seventh against Juan Pizarro and Bob Rush. Then the Braves bounced back for their four, scoring three on Hank Aaron's double after losing reliever Lindy McDaniel (14-12) had loaded the bases with three consecutive walks.

Don McMahon (5-2) won it with a one-hit two-inning mopup that officially eliminated the seventh place Cards from the race.

The Pirates, who had lost four in a row, caught the Giants with four runs in the seventh. An error by Danny O'Connell let in the tying run and Bob Clemente then put it away with a two-run single. Vern Law (16-9) went all the way for the victory.

Quarterback Fields Stars In OSU Drill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Quarterback Jerry Fields starred in Ohio State's football drill Thursday, connecting with 15 of 16 aerials in one stretch and drawing praise from Coach Woody Hayes.

Sophomore ends Paul Martin and Tom Perdue were the pass receivers on most of the day's completions.

Trainer Ernie Biggs listed 21 Buckeyes on the injured list but most of the hurts are superficial, he reported.

The film "Ben Hur" cost 15 million dollars to make.

Dean's Feats On Diamond Recalled By Frankie Frisch

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

It has been 25 years since Jay Hanna (Dizzy) Dean astounded the baseball world by racking up 30 victories for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Since this is the silver anniversary of the great man's feat it seemed like a good time to call Dizzy's old manager, Frankie Frisch, at his New Rochelle, N. Y., home.

Dizzy was the last pitcher in either major league to collect 30 wins in one season. Robin Roberts got 28 for the 1952 Phillies, and in the American League Hal Newhouser of the 1944 Tigers turned in 29. But nobody has touched 30 since Dean's day.

"And I don't think anybody ever will during a 154-game schedule," says the 61-year-old Frisch. "We had eight pitchers going into the 1934 World Series with Detroit and used every man. Today if a manager doesn't have 10 pitchers he's short handed. I say what good are pitchers if you can't use them."

"Years ago a pitcher wanted to start and he wanted to finish. When a manager came out to take the ball, the pitcher went nutty. Look at what happened when Boom Boom Beck threw that ball up against the right field band box wall in Philadelphia. He woke up Hack Wilson.

"There was the time Charlie Grimm went out to take the ball from Tex Carlton. Tex wouldn't give up the ball. When Grimm insisted, Carlton threw the ball up into the grandstand.

"If you had that much stuff in the game you'd still be pitching," Grimm told him.

"People tell all kinds of stories about Dizzy Dean winning the seventh and deciding game in the 1934 World Series against the Tigers. I had used Dizzy as a pinch runner in the sixth game, won by his brother Paul, 4-3, and Dizzy got hit in the head.

"After the game I walked under the shower with Dizzy and right then and there I knew he would pitch the final game the next day.

"We'll beat 'em for sure tomorrow," I told Dizzy. "I got a great pitcher going—Bill Hallahan."

"What's wrong with me?" Dizzy asked.

"You won't get your rest if I tell you're pitching. That game tomorrow will mean anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000 to you—if you rested tonight."

"Dizzy must have got his rest. He shut out the Tigers with six hits, and we won 11-0 after getting seven in the third inning."

Dean, now a Saturday television announcer for CBS, is 48 and much heavier than when his fast ball won 150 National League games. The native of Lucas, Ark., was only 23 when he won 30 games.

Three years later in the All-Star game, before President Roosevelt in Washington, a third-inning line drive from the bat of Earl Averill hit him on the left foot. When Dean reached the clubhouse an examination revealed the drive had broken a toe on his left foot. Dizzy never was the same pitcher.

"I think Dizzy should have stayed in the game," says Frisch. "He should have gone to first base. He could hit, he was a good runner and a great fielder. He could size up a play in a hurry and always knew to which base he should throw the ball. He was a natural."

"That ought to be enough on Dizzy. Think I'll go back and lie in my hammock."

Frisch, who recently pinch hit on Dean's TV show when Dizzy took a vacation, is still active as a radio sportscaster.

Hard-To-Love Age Needs Your Aid; Watch Out For Those I.Q. Exams!

This is the fourth of 15 articles, condensed from the book, "How To Get the Best Education for Your Child," written by the former education editor of the New York Times and his wife, an educator herself.

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE And LILLIAN FINE

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades are a period of despondency for parents.

This age, together with that of adolescence, has been called the time when it is hardest to love your children, but the time when they need the most love.

We find ourselves nagging our child to do certain things, rather than asking his opinion or understanding his desire to be a grown up member of the family.

At the beginning of the fourth grade, a youngster should be able to read easy material fairly rapidly, and write legibly, if not beautifully. His spelling ability is limited. He is eager to learn about the past. He likes to get money and spend it; he likes to measure things—he is ready for more intensive mathematics.

IT IS IMPORTANT to keep in mind that a 9-year-old who reads well and seems to have a sound foundation in other skills will not automatically retain those skills. Reading must be constantly practiced. Parents can encourage children to read by having books and magazines in the home, and by setting an example.

Most 9-year-olds like to draw and paint; if they show real ability they should be encouraged and if possible given special training.

Giving children a weekly allowance will probably help them handle money and use figures. Some may be interested in working out a budget for themselves. Discussing scores of baseball games and other sports is another way to encourage interest in figures.

Parents can do much to encourage interest in science. A young man doing cancer research told me, "My father bought me a cheap microscope on my 10th birthday, and suggested I look at a drop of water. It was the opening of a magic door to me."

THE MIDDLE YEARS of childhood are a period of increasing after-school activities. This is the time of Little League baseball teams, sand lot games, jump rope marathons, roller skating, extensive bike riding. It is also the time of music and dancing lessons, and religious school activities.

It is true we want our children to have every possible advantage, but we should also try to provide a little time for them to relax and daydream. It is not a good idea to so load a child's after school program that he feels pressured.

Testing a child's aptitude should not be neglected beyond the fourth or fifth grades.

What about a child who cannot do as much or as well as a fourth grader is expected to do? In such cases parents should run not walk to the school and insist on some remedial instruction. The time to act is now! Any noticeable retardation, particularly in reading, should not be neglected beyond the fourth and fifth grades.

Suppose your child lisps, stutters, or cannot pronounce certain sounds correctly? Does your school system employ a speech therapist? If not, why not? A speech difficulty, however minor, is a serious handicap.

EMOTIONAL PROBLEMS are often the major obstacles to a child's progress. An alert teacher knows when a student is troubled and immediately refers him to the school psychologist. This is usually done after consulting parents. Sometimes the psychologist finds problems he cannot tackle and refers the child to a guidance clinic which treats the parents too.

Parents are learning that early treatment of emotional maladjustments is excellent preventive medicine, smoothing the way for easier adolescence and adult living.

A psychologist also gives tests to determine scholastic achievement, mental ability, capacity to learn, personality characteristics, and later aptitude for certain vocations.

The field of testing is an intensely exciting one in which recent developments are phenomenal. There are intelligence tests, vocational tests, diagnostic tests, personality tests, and dozens of others.

MANY EDUCATORS have unquestioning faith in tests. And not only the educators! Personnel workers in many fields depend largely on tests to help select and even promote workers. The faith is probably justified in a majority of cases. But in individual cases tests can be misleading.

Parents should not accept test scores without question. If a parent insists, a teacher or guidance adviser can often arrange to have a child retested under more favorable conditions. It is often advisable to have a child tested at different ages and for different purposes—to diagnose any subject matter weaknesses, test emotional maturity, discover special aptitudes and so on.

Considering the money and effort invested in preparing tests, most standardized tests are very low in price. However, some school systems refuse to buy tests, regarding them as "new fangled" frills. Others buy some tests but try to economize by making teachers mark them or by making pupils share a question sheet. This is only one example of the ridiculous economies many schools are guilty of in connection with instructional materials.

By insisting that schools buy and use more and better tests—particularly diagnostic tests—parents can do a great deal to improve the quality of instruction their children receive.

And if the steel strike should end without a wage-price hike, that might signal the end of the spiral affecting the cost of living. Both would remove one of the chief talking points of the bulls—that buying stocks is a good hedge against further inflation.

Ohio's Projects Listed On Public Works Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here's a list of Ohio projects included in the second-year public works appropriations bill. President Eisenhower's veto of the bill was overridden Thursday by both houses of Congress.

Army Engineer projects: Muskingum River Reservoir $500,000; West Branch Mahoning River $225,000; Cleveland Harbor $400,000; Dillon Reservoir $5,160,000; Stratton Locks and Dam $6,800,000; Pike Island Locks and Dam $3,500,000; Roseville $284,000.

Planning projects include West Branch Mahoning River Reservoir $229,000; Belleville Locks and Dam (Ohio and West Virginia) $125,000.

The Muskingum River project and the West Mahoning project calling for $225,000 were omitted in a revised bill, but were reinstated in the bill passed Thursday.

3 Ohio Men Held In Bank Robbery Bid

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Three Ohio men are being held under $15,000 bond each for questioning in Monday's attempted robbery of a Fairmont, W. Va., supermarket.

Held at Fairmont are Joseph Arrington, 38, of Cleveland; Vincent Innocenzi, 38, of Parma; and George Michael Florea, 39, of Canton.

The trio and Paul Nathaniel Hankish of Wheeling were surprised in the store basement while trying to rob a safe, police said.

PTA Council Plans School

The Columbiana County PTA Council will hold its annual School of Instruction workshop Thursday, Oct. 22, in the MacDonald School in Wellsville.

Plans were started at a meeting Wednesday of the Executive Board at the home of the president, Mrs. Betty Whelan, of Salineville. Mrs. Elmer James of Alliance, East District PTA director, assisted.

Mrs. Whelan said all units in the county have been advised of the workshop and invited to send delegates. State PTA board members will be in charge of the four study groups. Themes will be ways and means, program, room representation and a multiple topic dealing with duties of officers, by-laws, procedure and council.

The workshop is one of the programs offered to all county units which belong to the Council. This will be an open meeting and an assembly of the delegates will be held before and after the four study sessions.

Mrs. Whelan will also attend the state PTA convention Oct. 4-6 in Columbus.

Ex-Convict Slain After Wounding 3 In Gun Battle

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—An ex-convict was shot to death Thursday night after wounding three persons in a wild battle during an attempt to hold up a market.

One of the victims is a housewife, eight months pregnant. She was shot in the abdomen.

An assistant market manager, Kenneth Benson, 26, stabbed in the stomach, seized the holdupman's gun and killed him with shots in the heart and groin.

Police identified the robber as William Coleroff, 46, an ex-convict from Philadelphia. They said they found among his papers the address, 2551 N. 33rd St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Benson, his pregnant wife, Sally 20, and Richard E. Lifsey, 17, were working in the market when the robber entered. Police said the gunman started shooting after Lifsey hit him with a bag of quarters wounding Mrs. Benson and the youth, before Benson seized the gun.

Mortgage Rate Hike Seen On FHA Loans

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A building industry spokesman predicts the Federal Housing Administration will increase the mortgage rate on FHA-insured loans by one-half per cent, from 5 1/4 to 5 3/4 per cent.

Carl Mitnick of Merchantville, N.J., president of the National Home Builders Assn., told more than 400 builders here Thursday that he expects the increase to come within 30 days.

6 Big-Money Gamblers Fined And Sentenced

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Six big-money gamblers convicted of evading $326,315 in excise taxes face prison sentences of five years and fines of $25,000 each.

They have 10 days in which to decide whether to go to prison or appeal their conviction.

Two others, shown leniency because of their age, will not go to prison but must pay $25,000 fines.

Judge Cale J. Holder sentenced and fined the eight men in U. S. Dist. Court Thursday, suspending the five-year terms for Charles L. (Buck) Sumner, 71, and Joey Jacobs, 64, both of Indianapolis.

Staffs Key Posts With Men Who Owe Him

Khrushchev Solidifies His Position

Editor's Note—After shoudering his way to the top of the Communist hierarchy, Nikita Khrushchev has taken out an insurance policy by staffing key party posts with men who owe him much. In this fourth of a series William L. Ryan tells how Khrushchev has sought to solidify his position.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Not long after Stalin died, somebody in Nikita Khrushchev's frightened opposition — it's not clear just who it was—described him as "a man with an itch for organization — and reorganization."

Since 1955, when he emerged as the most powerful single figure in the Soviet dictatorship, Khrushchev has done some fantastic organizing and reorganizing.

A man of considerable political agility and boundless energy, he demonstrated his talent for organizing a political machine in a way which would have made him a master politician in any country.

As soon as he shoved shrewd Georgi Malenkov aside as Soviet Communist party boss in 1953, Khrushchev began populating key party posts with men who owed their careers to him. Four years later he was able to defy the majority of the party Presidium, until then the most powerful single group in Soviet politics.

That was a historic moment.
The Communist Central Committee, by then full of Khrushchev's own men, set a notable precedent by reversing the Presidium, successor to Stalin's Politburo. Khrushchev was able to throw his opposition out of the places of power. Old Bolsheviks
V.M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganov-ich, along with Stalin's heir, Malenkov, and others were licked
by a wily politician.

From then on, Khrushchev was the Communist party. Any who opposed him were "antiparty."

Khrushchev reorganized Soviet agriculture, tossing aside the system of machine - tractor stations which under Stalin held power to allot machinery to collective farms and used it as a political bribe. He sent thousands of Soviet youths into "virgin lands" in Siberia and the east, to open up a new territory to farming. He demanded corn, corn and more corn to supply food for animals, one of the gravest weaknesses of Stalin era farming.

Khrushchev reorganized education. Young men and women who want to go on to higher education must take part in practical labor in Khrushchev's "work while you learn" program.

He reorganized Soviet science.
No longer did it have to know-tow abjectly to Communist political theory. The result was more for agriculture, more for the military machine, the first space satellite.

He reorganized Communist theory itself. His main contribution to present-day theory: all Socialist countries (meaning countries with Soviet-like systems) would achieve the ultimate goal of communism more or less at the same time. Independent socialism therefore would be impossible.

Khrushchev reorganized propaganda. In the Middle East, he reversed all Stalin had done and embraced the Arab nationalist movement.

He introduced a propaganda of smiles, liberally laced with counter-balancing threats.

And he reorganized foreign policy. He forced high-level international meetings. He leaped into competition with the United States to extend economic aid to uncommitted countries. Shouting, gesticulating, pleading, he held up the U.S.S.R. as the only real champion of peace.

Through all this, Khrushchev retreated not an inch from a conviction that Soviet communism one day will conquer the world.

"If anyone believes our smiles involve the abandonment of the teachings of Marx, Engels and Lenin, he deceives himself badly," roared Khrushchev. "Those who wait for that will wait until the schrimps learn to whistle."

But no quarter was given capitalism in the Red drive toward world domination.

"Whether they like it or not," snorted Khrushchev, "the capitalists must die. It is like a pregnant woman who is about to give birth.
It is a natural phenomenon. She has to give birth. You can't tell her to put it off. It is the same with the death of capitalism. Of course, we will contribute what we can."

Rev. Reinartz In Delegation
Which Visits With President

A former East Liverpool resident and minister was among a group of 100 clergymen and others who met in Washington Wednesday with President Eisenhower and other government officials to discuss a Nationwide Program For Peace being sponsored by the National Council of Churches and 30 of its constituent protestant and orthodox communions.

He is the Rev. F. Eppling Reinartz, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Heading the delegation was the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president, and Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary of the National Council. Also in the group was Ernest A. Gross, former U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, who is chairman of the Department of International Affairs, a part of the National Council's Division of Christian Life and Work.

In the Nationwide Program For Peace, the constituent denominations and communions of the National Council are cooperating to stimulate the study of international problems in local congregations and parishes so that the individual members may act with increasing responsibility as Christian citizens.

In line with studies sponsored by the Department of International Affairs for several years, this program is being given particular emphasis during the 12 months which began June 1. National Council and denominational leaders have been training discussion leaders at seminars during the summer. This will be continued at the local level during the fall with the cooperation of state and local councils of churches, with study programs in local congregations and parishes to begin in January and run through June.

6 Pass Examinations
For Police Eligibles

Six applicants for a patrolman eligibility list for the Midland Police Department passed examinations Thursday evening in the Borough Building.

They were Robert Lozzi, George Mamula, John Nott, Elmer Penny, Charles Petties and Thomas Wood.

Tests were conducted by Benny Pultanovich, secretary of the Midland Civil Service Board; Steve Germusa, chairman, and James Reed, a member. Pultanovich will send a report to Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary.

The list is made up each year to fill any vacancies in the police department. There are no openings now.

The District of Columbia was taken from the territories of Maryland and Virginia.

Free Methodist
District To Hold
Quarterly Session

Two newly appointed pastors of the Rochester District of the Free Methodist Church will be the main speakers at the quarterly meeting opening tonight at 7:30 at the campgrounds on Anderson Blvd.

The Rev. Roger Jessop of Rochester will speak tonight and the Rev. Fred Hipple of Monaca will preach Saturday morning at 11.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold a business meeting at 1
p. m. Saturday, followed with the quarterly conference at 2 with the Rev. Ralph L. Page, district superintendent, in charge.

A young people's rally at 7 p. m.
will close tomorrow's activities.

A "love feast" service will be held Sunday at 6:30 p. m. after a Women's Missionary Society rally at 3.

The three-day meeting will close at 7:30 with Rev. Jessop preaching.

The Free Methodist Church of Weirton, of which the Rev. Milo
Smith is pastor, will be the host church, and will be in charge of the meals to be served tomorrow and Sunday.

Season Events

Experiences of a Canadian vacation this summer were discussed by Paul Pattison at a meeting of the Chester Lions Club Thursday night at the clubhouse.

Programs for the winter were outlined and plans were made for members to clean and paint the interior of the clubhouse next Monday and Thursday nights, starting at 6:30.

The group authorized the purchase of an electric roaster for use at the clubhouse and other activities. Charles Mansfield was named chairman of the annual sale of Christmas trees.

In observance of the Lions anniversary month of October, prospective members will be invited to meetings next month.

Several members volunteered to help patrol the football field and serve in other capacities at home games at the request of R. M.
McFarland, principal.

Jerry D'Angelo, president, was in charge. A family picnic will be held at the next meeting Sept.
24 with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jordan of Arroyo.
